WOMAN EDITOR ENTERTAINED

Miss Alice Northrop, of India, Guest of American Pen Women.

Daughter of Illinois Preacher Gives Talk on Education of Hindustani Women.

The League of American Pen Women held a reception Monday evening in the parlors of its president, Mrs. Rachel Tongate Beck, at the Portner, to meet Miss Alice Northrop, of Lucknow, India, who is to be their representative in the Orient. Miss Northrop gave a charming talk on the educational work of noted Hindustani women. Miss Northrop, who is the daughter of Rev. J. A. Northrop, of Streator, Ill., was born in India, where her father spent several years as a missionary. When six years old she came to America to complete her education, afterward teaching in Evanston, Ill. Seven years ago, after taking a post-graduate course in Cambridge University, England, she returned to Lucknow, India, where she has been teaching in the Isabella Thoburn College for Girls. While there, and after death of Miss Singh, the Indian scholar so well known in this country Miss Northrop became editor of the Rafig-i-Niswan, a Christian paper for the Zanana women of India.

Miss Northrop is a fluent writer and ready speaker, a young woman of much personal charm, eminently fitted by special preparation to give valuable service in the development and advance-ment of the women of India. She is a guest for a few days in the home of her uncle, Maj. Edwin P. Walker, of this

Among the guests were Gen, and Mrs William H. Beck, Judge J. Q. Kern, Mrs. Edith Kingman Kern, Mrs. A. J. King man, Miss Edith Kingman, Mrs. Vir ginia King Frye, Mrs. Anna Sanborn Hamilton, Mrs. Susie Root Rhodes, Mrs. L. H. Wilder, Mrs. J. O. Estabrook, Mrs. Lyda Young Withee, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Hannen, Mr. Carl Hannen, Dr. Fareed, of Persia; Mr. A. M. Walker, Mrs. Nannette B. Paul, Mrs. Josephine Arnold Rich, Miss Juniata Rohrback, and Mrs. Lydia Adams Williams.

LADY MACCABEES HOLD RALLY.

Four Hives Enjoy Entertainment at Pythian Temple.

Columbia Hive, No. 3; Liberty Hive No. 7; District Hive, No. 8, and Washington Hive, No. 9, Ladies of the Maccabees, took part in a rally and class in-Itiation last night at Pythian Temple. Mrs. Melva J. Caswell, state commander, presided, and presented each of the guards with a gold emblem pin, aft-er which Columbia Hive, No. 3, presented her with a box of handkerchiefs. Ritualistic work was exemplified by the guards of Union Hive, No. 6, with Mrs. Mary L. Patrick as captain.

Made Knights of Pythias. At a meeting of Capital Lodge, No. 24. Knights of Pythias, last night at Pythian Temple the page of king was conferred on David D. Weinstein and E. Lipphard, after which refreshments were served.

KEEP COOL.

Warm Weather Advice from Members of the Herald's Band of Optimists.

BY THE OPTIMIST. On Sunday, July 10, the members of The Washington Herald Optimist Club will tell you how to keep cool, A little timely warm weather advice from people who practice right living, will not be smiss. Optimists are people who don't worry. Among other helpful traits that they strive to practice, they believe in the doctrine of keeping cool.

Consequently they don't worry. That's the idea in a nutshell.

Half the physical ailments and discomforts of mankind arise from a badly balanced mental attitude. Level-headed, farsighted people, who refuse to stew and fret over things they can't help, are the ones who get the most out of life, whether the temperature is kigh or low.

Warm weather can't hurt the optimists. They refuse to get excited; they continue to be cheerful and contented. They know that the summer's joys are all too fleeting. The people who are always kicking about the weather, for whom it is always either too hot or too cold or too dry or too wet, would better identify themselves with The Washington Herald Optimist Club, and read what the members have to say on July 10 about keeping cool. Contributions on "Keeping Cool" will be received by me not later than 12 o'clock (noon), on Wednesday, July 6.

Each member is invited to give his or her particular recipe or prescription for keeping cool. The usual prizes will be given.

ONE-PIECE EMPIRE DRESSING

Paris Pattern No. 3293 All Seams Allowed.

Always graceful and ladylike the empire dressing sack comes back to us season after season. In our illustration we show a model which is one of the loveliest of the novelties in this line. It is cut with the seamless shoulder, which gives a very graceful curve, and what little fitting there is is accomplished by means of the seam under the arm, which continues along the under side of the sleeves as well. The only trimming of this garment is the ornamental collar, and if the maker prefers this may be stitched flat and become only a trimming. Around the somewhat high waist large buttonholes are worked, and through these ribbon is run and is tied in front Such materials as India silk. crepe, either cotton or silk; lawn, organdie and many of the mercerized cotton fabrics, may be used in making this garment. The pattern is in 7 sizes, 32 to 44 inches bust measure. To make it in the medium size will require 1% yards of material 36 inches wide, with 1/2 yard of contrasting fabric 24 inches wide to
